3) The electronic enrolment does not concern students enrolling into the first year, students studying with an individual study plan and students who enrol after an interruption of studies (see Part III – Enrolment into higher sections of studies at the Study Division).

Part II
Electronic enrolment to the second and higher sections of studies

   a. the system will say “You have been successfully enrolled into the next section of study” (see fig. 4 in Appendix 1). In this case, the student will wait for the Study division to finish the check;

   b. the system will say “Total check result: Failed” (see fig. 5 of Appendix 1) but the student believes that he or she meets the conditions for enrolling into the next section of studies. In this case the student will stop the process of electronic enrolment and contact his or her Study division officer by e-mail. The Study division officer will check the state of affairs and finish the electronic enrolment if appropriate;

6) If there had been changes to the student’s personal or identity data (name, delivery address, e-mail, phone number, bank connection), he/she will update them in the SIS application “Personal data” (see Appendix 3).

7) After the check at the Study division (no later than 4 working days after the application for the check was submitted), the SIS will show the current academic year, i.e. 2021/2022, in the application “Summary of exam results”. After the SIS shows this information, the student who made changes in the “Personal data” application will print out and sign the “Registration sheet” (see Appendix 3).

Personal file print

After selecting this menu item SIS will prepare an output (PDF file) for you, which you can save to disk or open in Adobe Acrobat Reader at once and print. The Personal file preferably together with the output "Summary of exam results" (this document is submitted annually and is made by using the application "Summary of exam results" in SIS) you submit – both of them signed – to the mailbox of the Study Division on the ground floor of the main building.
Certification of study

After selecting this menu item SIS will prepare an output (PDF file) for you, which you can save to disk or open in Adobe Acrobat Reader at once and print. This printed document will be confirmed at the Study Division and serves as confirmation in requests such as discount fares on public transport in Prague.

Electronically signed Certification of study

When you select a menu item “Electronically signed certification of study” the system will generate (as in the previous chapter) a PDF document. Unlike the personal file this PDF document is provided with an electronic signature of Charles University and is not (!) primarily meant for printing. The file has a value for you exclusively in an electronic form – upload it to some storage device that is always accessible for you (e.g. flash drive, smart phone or tablet).

A verification of the certification of study in paper form is guaranteed by Czech Filling and Verification Information National Terminal aka “Czech POINT” (more details here: http://www.czechpoint.cz/web/?q=node/63). Czech POINT terminals can be found at most Czech Post offices but also in many other places throughout the Czech Republic (complete list here: http://www.czechpoint.cz/web/?q=node/62). You shall deliver the document in electronic form to Czech POINT, which checks the electronic key and issues you a verified paper form of the electronic version of the document (for more information here: http://www.czechpoint.cz/web/?q=node/478).

This paper document can then be used for example when applying for a student discount at Prague public transit.
